From the Principal's Desk...

These have been days memorable for the esprit de corps. I am grateful to the senior Loyolites of the 1980 and 1986 batches for coming back to school and inspiring their younger brethren with their reminiscences and success stories.

The School Youth Festival was a great occasion for students to showcase their talents. After a gap of two years, it brought back to the campus Loyola's spirit of competition and collaboration and enabled the children to let out their pent-up energies.

I congratulate all the teachers-in-charge and the captains of the four houses for their concerted effort in scheduling and conducting the competitions in the best possible manner, all the parents for their support in getting their wards ready for the events, and all the participants for their enthusiastic involvement in the festival. I am sure that, true to the ideal of Magis, the winners will raise their bar of excellence a notch higher. Not all can be winners in a close fight; those who lost by a whisker are already better off for the efforts they put in, and that qualifies them for a more memorable experience next time. I wish all of you the very best.

It is a matter of pride that Loyolites did well in all the three inter-school festivals where they participated this year and won the runners-up trophy at Cre8 hosted by L'école Chempaka and the over-all champions trophy at Srishiti hosted by Saraswathy Vidyalaya. Special congratulations to all the winners. Keep up the winning streak.

Fr P.T. Joseph, S.J.

A REUNION PERSPECTIVE

On Friday 22nd July, the 1986 Reunion Special Assembly attended by all students and teachers went off to a great start with the school song sung by young voices giving us 86-ers a rush of memories from years ago. We visualised ourselves standing to attention in school uniform just like them, singing with gusto, cheering the brotherly spirit amongst us and ending with the emphatic "...Game is won!" The school song never fails to inspire even today.

The assembly compering done by competent student leaders brought back memories, when I saw them in those chairs, compering together with my classmates in different school events! The teachers, many of whom are younger to us now, present a new promise, a freshness, and a compatibility with the young minds. Surely an era has passed, and we know that the school and its students are in capable hands.

When I was wandering around the school premises recalling incidents and scenes flashing before my mind's eye, now decades ago, I could hear the gay, raucous laughter echoing across the hallways and corridors. Nothing much has changed except the Principal's office and the administrative offices. However, it was clear that the spirit of the school experience remains—a very personal and private feeling that only those who have passed through its portals in a decade or in part can think up and feel.

1. Dr Simon George, 2. Dr Abraham K. George, 3. Mr Manoj Kamnani, 4. Mr Manoj Kumar B.

A few children passed my way. "3A!", when I asked them. All in a line going towards the music room. I got reminded of Mr M. J. Antony, his semi-dark Baker building classroom sans fans, daylight streaming through airholes in the wall, his lone rendition of the All India Radio signature tune on his beloved violin and a call out, "Come in! Where are the others?" We needed to assemble to practise for the upcoming St. Ignatius Loyola feast. "Sachidaananda roopame... deivame..." Soon I could hear the 3A boys learning to sing with their current teacher. All in a new room, well-lit new building housing the massive modern auditorium and indoor basketball courts.

The '86 reunion is always a great occasion hosted efficiently by our Trivandrum-based brothers and well-coordinated with the School Principal by our beloved Batch Ambassador, Dr Abraham K. George, both of whose efforts made the nostalgic events memorable.

The designated speakers of the Special Assembly, Brig. Dr. Biju K. Varghese, VSM, Dr. Roy Vergis and Mr. Anil D. Abraham, were eloquent in their unique messages which were based on their unique experiences in India and around the world over the last three and a half decades. Last and by no means the least, a few of our 86er 'bothers' were honoured with ponnadas for their relentless efforts to keep the batch brotherhood connected, united and spectacularly bonded: Dr. Simon George, Dr. Abraham K. George, Mr. Manoj Kamnani, Mr. Manoj Kumar B., Mr. Anu Rajan, and Mr. Anand Gopinath.

When I walked from the main building to the auditorium, I was greeted by the 6B boys who were going for their PT drill with their PT Teacher. I was reminded of Mr C. T. Varkey and his strong instructions, his 30-minute PT drill and ten-minute chit-chat for the rest of the period. The 6B boys asked me what I was doing now to which I replied, "I am a Leadership Coach" (and jokingly added) "I make older 'old boys' play games like 'sat' and 'seven tiles' (games we used to play in junior school)". All the boys I met and interacted with wanted to know which House I belonged to whilst in school. They were surprised to know that we changed houses every year till the 7th Standard and thereafter every two or three years.

Thirty-six years on...

COMING BACK TO SCHOOL

This was a long time in the making- two years to be precise. The pandemic played spoilsport for a while but that did not deter the Class of 1986 from planning a get together at Loyola. Loyolites came from far and near, first congregating at school for a special assembly, thereafter gathering at a resort in Kovalam over the weekend. Some of the old boys arrived earlier than the scheduled start and spent time wandering around the school campus. They were thrilled to spot familiar landmarks as well as marvelled at several changes brought about since their time, at a place most regarded as a second home growing up. The activities were kicked off by a traditional lunch at the school cafeteria where the boys were delighted to be joined by the Principal. It was also an occasion for the boys to interact with the current crop of Loyolites, several of whom were quite comfortable in approaching and conversing with their older brethren. The special assembly was attended by the entire senior school and teaching faculty. It was a very poignant moment when the entire assembly got to their feet as the choir played the school song. The older Loyolites joined in with gusto, and it was heartening for many to realise they had not forgotten the words to "Cheer Loyola's Sons..." Anil Abraham, Biju Varghese and Roy Vergis from the Class of 1986 joined the Principal on stage and addressed the assembly. They shared

Old habits die hard. The canteen and the playgrounds are as irresistible as ever.

After years of writing-board cricket on the corridors, the old boys get their hands on a real bat, with the tree trunk doubling as stumps and bearing the brunt of the yorkers and googlies. These latter-day Gavaskars are Roy Vergis, Antony Chacko, Manoj KB, Sajit Manomohan, and Manoj Kamnani.

some of their experiences at Loyola which inspired them to bigger and better things. The older Loyolites reminded the younger ones of how special Loyola was to them and how fortunate they were to have attended such a fine school. It was very heartening to see the school boys actively engaging with the speakers and participating in the assembly. Their enthusiasm was both inspiring as well as reassuring. Clearly while many things had changed at school, the core values that made up a Loyolite remained the same. Confidence, humility, and good cheer among other fine qualities. The assembly concluded with the Class of '86 thanking a few of their own for helping to make the reunion happen. The Principal was kind enough to bestow them with ponnadas as a mark of appreciation. Following the assembly, the boys headed back to the cafeteria for tea and snacks. They spent the rest of their time at school wandering the playgrounds. Some of them tried their hand at cricket. Even with the football where some of the school boys were gracious enough to play a short game with their older brethren. Suffice to say, the passage of time showed in the sporting display, but the old boys were able to leave with their dignity intact. The evening also included a bus trip to Aakkulam. Once again the boys were transported back in time and thoroughly enjoyed the nostalgic ride. The celebrations shifted to the resort the next day where the boys were joined by some of their family over the weekend. It was an exhilarating evening filled with music, dance, the retelling of old school stories and lots of fun. Several of the boys managed to meet up a few more times over the next few days. Everyone agreed the reunion was an amazing success and resolved to try and meet up again very soon, hopefully with more of their brothers attending the next time.

Perpetuating the Memory of the PATRON SAINT

Being a Jesuit institution, Loyola School solemnly celebrated the feast of St Ignatius, the founder of the Society of Jesus. We had a special assembly on 29th July 2022 to reiterate the tenets of our patron saint. The programme was graced by the Rector of Loyola Institutions, Fr Sunny Kunnappallil SJ, as the chief guest. He concluded his keynote address with an exhortation to always reflect, evaluate, unlearn, relearn and be in a state of openness to change.

Then, the little cherubs of UKG enlightened the audience on The Spiritual Exercises that focused on four Jesuit Principles. That was followed by Mrs Neetu Deepak who spoke about the turning points in the saint's life, its main takeaway being: we can train our minds to see things in a new light and find a new way to connect to the supreme power. The short video presentation that followed centred on the three steps of Discernment: Awareness, Understanding and Action.

Principal (CBSE) Fr Roy Alex, S. J.

Next in line was a thought-provoking musical skit on empathy entitled Door of Mercy. And, as usual, Loyola Music Club spiced up the solemn occasion with its unforgettable rendition of 'Take and receive, O Lord'. Pursuit of excellence being the watchword of the Jesuits, it was only fitting that all the school toppers in the latest board exams were specially honoured on the occasion. They received the mementos from Fr Rector, and one of the achievers, Gautham Krishna K. who secured national-level third rank in the ISC exam with 99.25% marks, shared his experience with the audience. The last major component of the programme was the speech by Fr Roy Alex, SJ, who focused on the Saint and the core values of Jesuit education. It was followed by the vote of thanks and the national anthem.

HOMECOMING OF THE CLASS OF 1980

29th of July, the day we relished the feast of St. Ignatius of Loyola, was also unforgettable for the feast of a reunion. The 20th batch of Loyola aka the Class of 1980 stepped once again into their second home for a family reunion. It was for the first time in 42 years that they were meeting. They came with their families, and interacting with them seemed like a conversation of siblings. For their glowing youthfulness, I still wish to address them as ‘Chettanmaar.’ The dais was adorned by three of the most eminent personalities of the batch: Dr Rajiv Vijayan, Mr. Ravikrishnan M. K. and Mr Atul Dinkar Rane, along with our principal, Fr. P. T. Joseph, S.J. and the LOBA President Mr. Ranjith Raveendran.

Our first speaker was Dr. Rajiv Vijayan. He did his B.Tech at IIT Madras in 1986, MS and Ph.D at University of Illinois in 1988 and 1991, respectively. We were quite delighted to hear that he was the school leader at Loyola. He spoke to the audience about his struggles, failures, and how he transcended them. He currently serves as the Vice-President at Qualcomm Inc.

Our next speaker was Mr. Ravikrishnan M. K. He did his Pre-degree at Govt Arts College, Trivandrum, in 1982. He is a result-oriented banking professional with 32 years’ experience. He had headed the then largest regional rural bank in the country viz; Kerala Gramin Bank, as its Chairman. He currently serves as the General Manager and Secretary to the Board of Canara Bank. He spoke mainly about the lessons he learnt at Loyola, and how they helped his career.

His talk was a career guidance session on banking and management as well. Our final speaker was Mr Atul Dinkar Rane. After his schooling at Loyola, he graduated in Electronics and Communication Engineering from Guindy Engineering College, Chennai, and received his postgraduate degree in Guided Missiles from the University of Poona. He currently serves as the Director General, BrahMos, DRDO and CEO & MD BrahMos Aerospace Pvt. Ltd. His talk with the students touched on his life after school, his work at DRDO, and different stages of India's development in missiles and defence.

The interactive session of the students with the batch was the most exciting part of the reunion. The brilliant way they answered the extraordinary questions from the inquisitive students was most admirable.

Thank you our dear elder brothers for your homing instinct, thank you very much for being with us, and for sharing your Loyola experience. Your success stories are so inspiring that we reaffirm our resolve to strive for excellence and emulate your examples.

Beyond the Curriculum: YOUTH FESTIVAL 2022

The Youth Festival 2022 opened with an interesting statement from the compere: “Creativity is contagious.” Contagious is not exactly what one might want to hear in the aftermath of a pandemic, but the fest itself was definitely a much-needed return to the days before COVID. It showcased a wide spectrum of talents in music, dance, drama, art, writing, and everything in between, and turned out to be a fierce battle between the houses for domination.

The fest was inaugurated by Prof. Achuthsankar S. Nair. The lighting of the lamp kicked off this cultural extravaganza. Events such as declamation, recitation, debate, extempore speech, essay writing, short story writing, and versification enabled all the participants to showcase their all-round proficiency in English, Malayalam and Hindi. Events like instrumental music, solo and group songs demonstrated the students’ musical talents while dance competitions put their skill and creativity centre stage. Art too, was a major part of the fest, with students putting their drawing and painting skills to the test. Dramas, put forth by the houses, allowed them to convey thought-provoking messages, all the while showcasing the collective ingenuity of the entire team. The quiz too, was an interesting event, with some ingenious and very creative answers on stage. Mind Over Matter, the much anticipated final event of the fest, brought out the contestants’ personalities, allowing them to showcase their wit, creativity, and intellect onstage. In the end, the Youth Festival proved to be a grand event, with students coming up at the last minute to participate, proving that creativity was contagious after all. The one-week festival came to an end with Shri Kochu Preman as the chief guest for the closing ceremony. The youth festival was an incredible exercise in creativity, team-building, and leadership training, reminding students that there is more to school than marks.
